

THE IRISH TIMES

April 04, 2007

Finavera buys wind power project

Energy company Finavera Renewables said yesterday that it had completed its purchase of the Three Hills wind power project in Alberta, Canada for $3.35 million Canadian dollars (€3.17 million).

The project consists of two 75 megawatt phases, the first of which has received a grid connection from the local energy regulator.